Lomandra Confertifolia "Wingarra"

Description : Compact , clumping, ornamental plant

Grows to : Height of 30cm , spread of about the same .

Foliage; This tough little Lomandra has a very fine texture, which from a distance gives it the appearance of a Native tussock grass. (Poa labillardieri). Unlike Poa, this plant will generally not need trimming. Its blue appearance provides a nice contrast to other plants.

Position: Tolerates a wide range of climactic conditions. Full sun to part shade. Very hardy , excellent drought and Frost tolerance.

As this plant is very slow growing, it is recommended for planting in larger sizes, 140mm pots minimum.

Care : Fertilizer every spring- remove older leaves.
